Knitting at the Baseball Game

This year's Stitch 'N' Pitch in Toronto is August 5th at 7pm against the Oakland Athletics.

Stitch 'N' Pitch is an annual promotional initiative, sponsored by The National NeedleArts Association (TNNA), which gives needle arts enthusiasts a chance to practice our art while cheering for the Blue Jays. In 2007, over 700 knitters, needlepointers and quilters attended.

A group of tickets in the 200 level are offered at a discount price of $20. Everyone who attends get a free Blue Jays tote bag with yarn and needlework materials valued at $40.

Stitch 'N' Pitch is FUN! It lets us bring our hobby to the ball park and enjoy a night out together. Even if you aren't a regular baseball fan, you'll find that it's really enjoyable when shared with friends and colleagues. It's also fun for spouses and children to attend.

This is a great chance to rub elbows with famous Canadian fibre arts designers and authors like Stephanie Pearl-McPhee and Amy Singer – it's a popular public event and will be broadly promoted on television, in the newspapers and on the radio.

Tickets can be purchased at Knitters Attic; online at bluejays.com/specialevents (promo code GP-SNP08); or on consignment by calling (416) 341-1670 or emailing paul.rabeau@bluejays.com.
